Sometimes air filtration can be rocket science. At this very moment, a Morehouse Air Filter is hard at work high over head in the International Space Station.

Air filtration is our business, and Morehouse is at the forefront of air filtration technology. Morehouse Air Filters can be found in homes, office buildings, hospitals, and industrial plants around the world; even in outer space. Anywhere there's a need for a clean air environment.

So when it comes to choosing a filter for extra-clean air... think Morehouse, foremost in air filtration technology.
